

The FCC should not implement any proposal that would lessen Indiana's Telephone Privacy law protections. We can answer the telephone now knowing that it is more than likely a family member or friend rather than a telemarketer.